

JULIE'S ACCIDENT

Julie and her father were on their way to the theater for a Saturday matinee. Saturdays were Julie's times with her [scary/ father/ straw]. They had made a promise that [hurt/ they/ note] would do something special together on Saturdays. [Oven/ Dial/ This] was because they were so busy [tunnel/ taste/ during] the week that they often didn't [see/ sky/ men] each other. This week they decided [at/ in/ to] go to a movie.

The theater [two/ was/ eat] at the mall and the mall [mat/ ate/ was] always crowded on Saturdays. There was [sold/ hull/ also] a lot of traffic around the [doll/ mall/ rock]. Julie was glad that her father [ton/ was/ dip] driving because all of the speeding [part/ shed/ cars] made her nervous.

They were stopped [do/ of/ at] a red light just before the entrance [on/ to/ is] the mall. Julie was surprised how [fast/ stem/ each] some of the other cars were [going/ smell/ apple]. She thought it was awfully dangerous [it/ to/ on] be traveling so fast when there [ride/ clam/ were] so many cars on the street. [Rib/ She/ Ant] also wondered why people had to [is/ do/ be] in such a hurry.

The light [supper/ antler/ turned] green and her father started across [wow/ the/ fix] intersection. Just then Julie heard tires squealing [out/ and/ too] felt a terrible jolt. The car [spun/ tune/ wave] around and ended up facing the opposite direction. [All/ The/ Sit] of this happened in a split [nearby/ second/ master] before she could even scream. A [jay/ car/ did] coming down the other street was traveling [too/ out/ into] fast and didn't see that the [apart/ light/ watch] had changed. The man had hit [the/ bus/ has] back corner of Julie's car which [home/ made/ skip] it spin. It all happened so [quickly/ pretend/ because] and Julie never even saw the [fat/ car/ ton] coming.

Her father immediately asked her [if/ at/ in] she was alright. She had bumped [was/ man/ her] head on the side window but [it/ on/ my] didn't hurt much. She was mostly [just/ skip/ seed] scared. Her father said it was [my/ a/ if] good thing they had their seat [giant/ belts/ charm] on. He said they might have [push/ soon/ been] hurt if they hadn't.

Once he [sit/ was/ yes] sure that Julie was O.K., her [garage/ father/ bought] got out to talk to the [stiff/ given/ other] driver. A policeman soon showed [do/ up/ of] and said that the other driver [but/ was/ yet] at fault. He gave him a [ticket/ porter/ lunge] for running a red light. Julie [fix/ had/ bus] to watch all of this from [sky/ set/ the] car because her father thought she [inside/ should/ across] not get out. She was anxious [for/ put/ bun] the whole thing to be over [in/ so/ do] they could go home. Julie wasn't interested [of/ in/ at] going to the movies any more. [She/ Hop/ Are] just wanted to be at home [and/ joy/ fix] feel safe again. She was thankful [doll/ shop/ that] no one was hurt and that [her/ mat/ dot] dad had taught her always to [feed/ push/ wear] her seat belt.
